AESTHETICS	A yummy looking cigar at first impression. Small veins run from head to foot.	This cigar sported a very dry veiny wrapper but had a rich coffee color.	A beautiful brown wrapper with a slight sheen to it and long attractive veins.	ORIGIN Bahamas
CONSTRUCTION	A surprising feel. Very well-packed cigar that reminds me of my arms after the gym. Had a nice draw and even burn.	Soft between my fingers. The draw was smooth, but the burn was uneven. Slow cool burn with a dark gray firm ash.	Feels expertly crafted and put together. The burn was mostly perfect and it left a long and attractive ash.	MAKER La Palina Cigars
FLAVOR AND STRENGTH	This cigar will fool you until you start smoking it and feel the many flavors that this cigar packs: cedar, leather, coffee.	First few puffs are smooth and creamy. Has espresso bitterness. Showed some cedar aromas in the finish.	Like a nice long creamy delight. There was a nice woody sweetness throughout. Mild-to-medium bodied.	FILLER Honduras, Nicaragua
GENERAL COMMENTS	Let me tell you I enjoyed this small cigar so much that I changed my mind about all mild cigars. Pairs well with cognac. 94 excellent	This cigar has some very nice qualities. Burn was smooth with a firm draw, good flavor and lots of smoke. 90 very good	I'm more of a fan of the full-bodied cigars, but I would smoke this one again—it hit just about all the right notes. 96 superior	BINDER Costa Rica WRAPPER Ecuador SIZE 4 3/5 x 52 PRICE $19.00
